AVUITY

Fully Integrated Solution

Our platform is comprised of several products to help management and end-users understand and use space to its fullest potential

Our booking platform, VuBook, displays room availability and booking access across a wide array of touch panels

Our analytics platform, VuSpace, gathers data from the sensors and provides detailed analytics and customized reporting on:

- How often a space is used
- Capacity of space when used
- How many people are entering and exiting
- Times of highest utilization
